Renting a Car in The UK

When selecting a rental vehicle, take into consideration where you will be travelling, how many people will be travelling in the vehicle, luggage size and the kind of driving you intend to do. DriveAway Holidays offers a vast range of vehicles from small economy sizes to larger full-sized cars, 4WDs, convertibles and luxury vehicles. The ACRISS system on page 4 will help you find a car that suits your needs. This is internationally recognised code which will ensure you get the same standard of vehicle wherever you rent.

Automatic and Manual Transmissions

Both automatic and manual vehicles are available in The UK. Automatic vehicles are generally more expensive than manual cars and may be scarcer at smaller depots.

Do I need a Credit card?

Yes. A credit card will be needed when collecting, which will be used for a security bond. The deposit is generally the insurance excess of the rental car which depends on the category of vehicle you have booked and the rate type.

Collecting at an Airport in The UK

At most British airports you will find your rental company has a desk in the arrivals hall, with the rental cars being located within walking distance. However, at smaller airports you may be required to collect your vehicle from a downtown depot. A courtesy transfer will be provided from the airport to the depot in this instance. DriveAway Holidays offer all-inclusive prices which generally include any location / airport fees and charges that may otherwise apply. Remember to check at time of booking to ensure your rental will include all airport fees.

Can I collect my rental car in one British city and drop it off in another British city?

Yes, this is certainly possible. In most cases, there are no fees for one way rentals within mainland UK but in some cases there may be a one-way fee payable when you collect your rental. Check with DriveAway Holidays before you travel to find out any additional costs.

Rental Vehicle Insurance

British law requires all vehicles to have compulsory third party (CTP) injury insurance, although your car rental supplier should already have comprehensive insurance covering their cars. In the case of an accident it must be reported to the insurance provider immediately and an excess will be due.

Car Rental Companies in The UK will normally include:

- Third Party Insurance: Compulsory insurance and will be included in your car hire price. This covers you for other people's injury and damage to their vehicle.
- Collision Damage Waiver (CDW): This limits your financial liability for damage to the rented vehicle and is normally included in prepaid car hire prices. Rentals are normally subject to liability excess, which can be reduced at the time you collect your rental car or by taking out DriveAway Hire Car Excess Insurance.

- Theft and Loss Cover: This limits your financial liability for the loss or theft of the rented vehicle and is generally included in the prepaid car rental price.
- Fire and Liability: Limits your financial liability for bodily injury or death, and is normally included in the prepaid car hire price.
- Personal Accident Insurance: This covers the driver for personal injuries and is generally not included in your car rental rate. It is considered an optional extra that you can take out upon collection of the car.

DriveAway Hire Car Excess Insurance

When renting a vehicle, the rental rates include basic insurance, however, in the event that the vehicle is stolen or accidentally damaged, there is usually an insurance excess amount which the driver is liable to pay to the rental company. To avoid any unexpected costs opt for DriveAway Hire Car Excess Insurance which will offer a reimbursement for the supplier's damage and theft excess to a maximum for AU$5,000. Simply add this onto your car rental booking prior to departure and you could save thousands of dollars in the long run! To find out more, simply call DriveAway Holidays on 1300 723 972 or visit the DriveAway website.

Driving in The UK

- Cars are a right-hand drive and drive on the LEFT hand side of the road.
- Familiarise yourself with your rental car and its controls before you leave the depot.
- Observe the speed limits. Speed cameras, hand held devices and portable speed detection devices are used by patrolling police to catch speeding drivers and hefty fines are issued for excessive speed.
- Don't Drink and Drive! The maximum blood alcohol level is 0.08%, and DUI drivers can face hefty fines or imprisonment so be smart, don't drink and drive.
- Be aware of U-Turners. Drivers are permitted to execute a U-turn or a 3 point turn on any UK road unless it's expressly forbidden.
- When driving rural roads, be patient. You may get stuck behind a slow moving vehicle, but don't try to overtake on narrow winding roads.
- Although country roads are easy to drive, some country roads are too narrow for two cars to pass, so make use of the lay-bys, where one driver can move to the side of the road and give way to oncoming traffic.
- Keep your headlights on during the day, especially on country roads and in foggy or misty conditions.

Driving Laws in The UK

- Unless otherwise indicated, the speed limits in The UK are:
 - Built up areas: 30mph
 - Country roads: 40-50mph
 - Single Carriageways: 60mph
 - Dual Carriageways: 70mph
 - Motorways: 70mph
- Seat belts: You and your passengers must wear a seat belt at all times, including children over the age of 12.
- Child Safety: Children must be properly secured in an appropriate Child Safety Seat:
 - * Under 3 years:
 - * Up to 13kgs (birth to 9-12months): Rear- facing baby seat.
 - * 9-18kgs (9 months to 4 yrs): Forward facing child seat.
 - * 15-25kgs (4-6yrs) or 15kgs and up: Forward facing child seat or booster seats.
 - * 22-36kgs (6yrs and up): Forward facing child seat or booster cushions.
 - * Up to 11 years and under 135cm: children must be seated in a child seat booster cushion or seat.
 - * 12 years up: a seat belt must be worn.
- It is illegal to talk on a mobile phone while driving in The UK.
- Motorcyclists must wear a helmet.
- Park only where it's permitted. Check to see if there's parking meters where you will have to 'pay and display' the parking receipt on your car's dashboard. Otherwise you run the risk of heavy fines and clamping in major cities.

Parking

In major cities, parking zones are differentiated by coloured zones.

- Blue Zones: short term (1 to 1½ hours)
- Green Zones: longer periods (2 to 4 hours)
- Red Zones: parking not permitted at any time.

After 6pm and when parking restrictions have been lifted, you can park on streets with single yellow line. You cannot park on streets with double yellow lines. There are various types of free and paid parking options within The UK. In the larger cities, parking can be costly for limited periods of time.

Licence Requirements

A full driving licence is required to drive in The UK. All drivers must have held a full valid driving licence for a minimum of one year. Australian residents are not required by law to have an international drivers licence, although it is recommended since an international licence holds more credibility with the local traffic police than your home driving licence. Contact your local motoring association for further information.

Min & Max Age Requirements

Min Driving Age: Usually 21; however in some regions the minimum age is 25.

Young Driver's Surcharge: Drivers aged 21-22 years may be charged from £15+tax per day, drivers aged 23-24 years may be charged from £11+VAT per day.

Max Driving Age: The majority of locations in The UK do not have a maximum driving age, however there may be restrictions for drivers aged 70-75 in some regions. In some cases, aged drivers may be required to hold a letter from their GP stating they are healthy and fit to drive. Check with the supplier for further details.

Cross Border Fees and One Way Rentals

Travelling between England, Scotland and Wales:

There are no additional fees to travel between England, Scotland and Wales. One way rentals will not incur an international one way fee and travel to islands such as Isle of Man, Isle of White, Shetland Islands and Orkney Island is allowed with no additional charge. Travel to the Channel Islands will sometimes incur an additional fee. One way rentals to islands are generally not permitted. Some suppliers will not allow travel off the islands if picking up on the island. Check with DriveAway Holidays when you book to find out further information.

One Way Car Rentals:

There may be additional charges to collect from one city and drop off in another within the same country, depending on the supplier. Most suppliers will not charge a one way fee if a vehicle is dropped off at another location in The UK. Some companies will not permit international one way rentals from the Republic of Ireland to Northern Ireland. Before you book, find out any other additional fees that might be charged by the supplier. Remember that you may not be covered by insurance if you travel to another country without the car rental company's permission.

More The UK Car Rental FAQs

I'd like to visit Ireland on my holiday then return it to Northern Ireland Is this possible?

This is possible. Most car rental companies will permit travel to Northern Ireland with little or no fee, however travel to the Republic may incur an additional fee. Check with DriveAway Holidays for further details.

Can I collect my rental car in mainland Britain and drop it off in the Republic of Ireland?

Not all suppliers will permit international one ways from mainland UK to the Republic of Ireland, however one way rentals from mainland UK to Northern Ireland is permitted with some suppliers although a substantial one way fee will apply. This will depend on the car rental supplier. Check with DriveAway Holidays when you book your car hire.

Should I take out additional insurance on my car rental?

Rental rates will include basic insurance: Collision Damage Waiver (CDW), Third Party Liability and Theft Protection. In the event that your rental vehicle is accidentally damaged, regardless of who is at fault, or stolen, the Insurance excess is the maximum amount you are liable for.

Should I hire a GPS for driving in The UK?

GPS hire is available from DriveAway Holidays. Our rates include the GPS unit, travel guides and entertainer. The GPS is delivered direct to your home or travel agent before you depart. GPS units can also be requested direct with some suppliers, however this will be at their own rates. If time is short though, or you would simply prefer to collect your GPS unit together with your rental, then this may be an option for you.

What do I do if I want to extend my car rental whilst I'm in The UK?

Once the car rental has commenced you will have to call the depot where you initially collected the vehicle, and if the car is available to be extended, you will be offered additional days at the local rate.

Self-Drive Tours from London

London to the New Forest

To get to the New Forest from London, take the M3 directly out of London and then head along the M27. The drive will take you approximately an hour and a half. Once you get there, visit the New Forest National Park which is the smallest National Park in Britain, stroll through the historic streets of Hythe Village or visit Calshot Castle. If you're looking for something slightly more adventurous, why not head to the New Forest Water Park.

London to Windsor

For the perfect day out, take a leisurely drive along the M4 down to Windsor. The trip will take you under an hour and on arrival you will be spoilt for choice of things to do. Stroll through the historically quaint streets, take a half day boating trip along the river and finish by visiting Windsor Castle. This castle is the largest inhabited castle in the world and is still used as an official residence by the British Monarch. Queen Elizabeth II spends most of the weekends at the castle entertaining for both private and state functions. After a tour of the castle, stop at one of the many restaurants and cafes for a bite to eat before heading back to London.

Southeast England

The Southeast region of England consists of Berkshire, Buckinghamshire, East Sussex, Hampshire, Isle of Wight, Kent, Oxfordshire, Surrey and West Sussex. Almost all of these regions are within a two hour drive from the centre of London, and are firm favourites amongst Londoners and seasoned visitors alike. With gorgeous seaside towns, vibrant lifestyles, cities built around world famous universities and rich culture and history, the southeast of England has something to offer every traveller!

Self-Drive Tours in Southeast England

Brighton to Portsmouth

This route follows the coast from Brighton to the town of Portsmouth. Begin this tour from the seaside town of Brighton & Hove, and follow the A27 west through Worthing, East Preston and Littlehampton, and up to Arundel. Stop here to check out the 11th Century castle and cathedral, as well as quaint museums, tea rooms and antique shops.

Drive down to Littlehampton and along the coast to Bognor Regis, and then back onto the A259 to the town of Chichester. Pick up the A27 and head west along to the city of Portsmouth. This lovely town is rich in naval and cultural history, and it's worth a visit to Portsmouth Historic Dockyard, the Spinnaker Tower and the Southsea Castle. Outside of Portsmouth is the Portchester Castle, which is a well preserved Roman fortification that is worth the five minute drive from town.

Tour the Colleges

Follow this drive to see England's two most famous universities, Oxford and Cambridge. Begin in Oxford, where you'll be able to tour the university and its extensive grounds. Head north on the A44, stopping off in the small town of Woodstock, which is home to the stately home of Blenheim Palace and is open to the public. Drive north east along to the town of Northampton, which is home to the Guildhall and holds one of Britain's oldest markets as well as having its own university.

From Northampton follow the A428 through Bedford and onto Cambridge. This wonderful town is home to Kings College, Queens College and Trinity colleges, to just a few. Explore the colleges, as well as the beautiful parks and gardens, many museums and churches.

Arundel Cathedral

Southwest England

The Southwest of England has long been regarded as one of the most beautiful regions in Britain. This region consists of Bristol, Gloucestershire, Somerset, Dorset, Wiltshire, Devon, Cornwall and Isles of Scilly. The Southwest provides magnificent scenery, wild moors, great beaches, stunning coastlines, charming villages and vibrant cities. All this, along with history and heritage like no other! Perfect for the self-drive holiday.

Self-Drive Tours around East England

Cambridge to Ipswich

This route takes in the beautiful countryside and elegant towns of Eastern England. After you've seen the universities, cathedrals, parks and rivers of Cambridge, head east along the A11 to Newmarket. This small market town, a great spot for equine enthusiasts, is home to the National Horseracing Museum, the National Stud, and is the head quarters of the British Jockey Club. Driving further on Eastward, you'll come across Bury St Edmund which is home to the Abbey Gardens and St Edmundsbury Cathedral, which are definitely worth a visit.

Follow the A14 through Woolpit and Stowmarket until you reach Ipswich. Here you can enjoy the waterfront marinas, a bustling city centre, twelve medieval churches and green open spaces.

Norwich and The Norfolk Broads

See the best of Norfolk by taking this driving route. Begin in Cromer, where you can visit Sheringham Park and explore the landscaped gardens. See Felbrigg Hall and Blickling Hall. Follow the B1354 through Horstead and Hoveton, which will take you on to The Broads.

The Broads are Britain's largest inland wetlands. You can see some of England's most rare and spectacular flora and fauna in this area. Self-Drive Tours around East Midlands

Matlock Bath to Northampton

Start this trip with a tour around Matlock Bath, which is built along the River Derwent in Derbyshire. Matlock Bath was originally developed as a Spa town back in the 1800's and today is home to the Heights of Abraham Park. The cliff of High Tor is complete with a cable car, museums and attractions. Head south to the town of Derby and through the wild moors, remote farms and tiny villages. In Derby you can visit the Derby Cathedral or visit the famous Royal Crown Derby Factory where England's finest bone china is produced. If you're pressed for time, you can take the M1 south straight through to Northampton. If you want to see more of the beautiful English countryside, take the A6 down through Loughborough towards Leicester. From there, head on through Great Glen, Market Harborough and onto the A508 down to Northampton. Along the way you'll see historic towns, stately homes and picturesque scenery.

Best of the Parks

Begin this tour in the township of Nottingham, where you can see Nottingham Castle, Wollaton Hall and the pub, Ye Ole Trip to Jerusalem, which proclaims to be the oldest pub in Britain. Drive 30 minutes out of town and visit the Sherwood Forest Country Park, which is the home of the legendary Robin Hood. From here, head north on the A60 through Ravenshead to the town of Mansfield. Here you will find the Palace Theatre, which was built in 1910. Also be sure to visit the St John's, St Mark's, St Peter and St Paul's churches. Drive north-west on the A617 through the borough of Chesterfield. Chesterfield is home to fantastic markets and the twisted spire on the Church of St Mary. From here, drive west on Baslow Road, which will take you through to the Peak District National Park. This was the first national park in the British Isle and is the second most visited national park in the world. Here you can enjoy plenty of outdoor activities, including hiking, mountain-biking and horse riding, or just enjoy the scenery and the peaceful countryside.

The West Midlands

Explore the diversity of the West Midlands. The tranquil countryside in the Malvern Hills and parts of the National Forest contrast against its multicultural conurbation, which includes one of the biggest cities in Britain, Birmingham. Stay Healthy

Your comprehensive travel insurance will cover any medical costs including medical evacuation, make sure that your insurance covers you for the whole time you'll be away and be clear on what is not included. In case of an emergency, go to your nearest hospital for treatment. The Australian Government has a reciprocal health care agreement with the Government of the United Kingdom that gives Australians access to free emergency medical services but does not provide for any ongoing treatment of existing health conditions.

For non-urgent ailments, go to the local medical centre or NHS walk in centre where you will be billed for the treatment.

Plan for the continuing care of pre-existing conditions before you leave. Bring your medications in their original and clearly labelled containers with a declaration from your doctor describing your medical conditions and medicines needed. Pharmacies and chemists carry most prescriptions, however it can be expensive, so it's best to have your scripts filled before you go, and carry these medicines along with a letter from your GP explaining your medical conditions.

Stay Safe

Travelling in the UK is not dangerous, but a level of caution should always be taken when touring in any foreign country. The majority of crimes tend to occur in the larger cities where tourists can be targeted by crimes such as bag snatching and pick pocketing. The best advice is to keep your valuables close to your body and out of reach from potential thieves, avoid lonely streets out of hours and don't flash your wealth and make yourself an obvious target.

Car break-ins, theft, smash and grab and vandalism on tourists vehicles can occur, but can be prevented by keeping valuables or bags out of sight, securely locking cars or using off-street supervised parking.

In the unlikely event of theft or loss, be sure to inform all your credit card companies as soon as you discover your wallet has been lost or stolen. Most credit card companies have toll free numbers to call if your cards are lost or stolen, and they may be able to issue an emergency replacement card or wire you a cash advance.

Money Matters

Currency

The currency of the United Kingdom is the pound sterling (£). Notes come in £5, £10, £20 and £50 denominations, and coins come in 1p, 2p, 5p, 10p, 20p, 50p, £1 and £2. You'll often hear the pound referred to colloquially as a 'quid'.

Currency Exchange

Foreign currency can be exchanged at Bureau de Change at international airports and major city centres, as well as banks, post offices and some hotels.

Banking Hours

Standard banking hours are Monday to Friday 9.00-9.30am until 3.30-4.00pm, Many bank branches stay open late once a week until 5:30 or 6:00pm, and are often open on Saturdays as well (9:00-9:30am until 12:30-3:30pm). Banks in England and Wales remain open over lunch, but many banks in Scotland and Northern Ireland close for an hour at lunch.

ATM's

ATM's are located almost everywhere in the UK, except in the smallest villages.

Tax

Value Added Tax – VAT – is a mandatory 20% tax on most goods and services in the UK. Generally the VAT is included in the ticketed price, however some larger, more expensive goods may not have the VAT included.

Credit & Debit Cards

American Express, Visa and MasterCard are all widely accepted across the UK. Credit cards can be used in larger businesses, whilst the smaller businesses prefer debit cards. The 'Chip and PIN' system has been active since 2006, where you have the option of either entering a PIN or signing for your purchases. If your card credit card is not Chip and PIN enabled you should still be able to sign in the normal way.

Traveller's Cheques

Traveller's cheques are widely accepted in the UK. Take traveller's cheques into the UK in pounds sterling to avoid additional exchange rate charges. You may need a form of photo identification to use traveller's cheques.

Tipping

Tipping is not common practice in Britain although restaurants and cafés that provide good service could expect around 10-15% tip. In pubs with food or drinks ordered and served at the bar no tip is required.
